SHOT BY AN ASSASSIN

An Aged Milkman Called to His Door and Killed.

NO CAUSE FOR THE CRIME.

Robbery May Have Been the Motive, but Nothing Was Secured by the Perpetrator—Hundreds of People Searching For the Villain With Bloodhounds—A Lynching May Follow.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., March 7.—Aroused from his slumbers at 2 o'clock in the morning and shot through the heart with a double-barreled shotgun in the hands of an assassin while standing at his own threshold, was the fate of Stephen Geer, a milkman, 60 years old. Geer for several years had conducted an extensive dairy on the Charlestown pike, a mile from the city, and was reported to be quite wealthy. It is thought that the assassin's motive was not only murder, but robbery as well.

Geer, it seems, was awakened by the bark of his dog in the house. So noisy did the animal become that Geer opened the door and threw the dog out, when Geer was confronted by the assassin and killed.

During the day a suspicious looking man was seen in the vicinity of the Geer homestead and an accurate description of him is now in the possession of the police. After the assassination, tracks of the murderer were followed a long distance and lost. Chief of Police Cisco wired W. A. Carter of Seymour to report to this city with his bloodhounds at once.

The bloodhounds arrived here yesterday afternoon from Seymour, took up the scent from the Geer residence, and followed a trail a distance of one mile to a house near Editor Renben Dailey's residence, on the gravel road. The house is occupied by Paul Jones and wife, an aged couple, and Hiram Stinson and wife, daughter and son-in-law of the Joneses. These negroes, however, have heretofore borne an excellent reputation, although circumstances point strongly to Stinson. His arrest may be expected at any time.

There are several white persons also being shadowed, who will be compelled to give an account of themselves as to what they were doing on the night of the murder. Excitement is running high and is nearly equal to that of the Written murder. It is believed that if the murderer is caught he will be summarily dealt with.

When the dogs checked up at the Jones shanty there were fully 400 people present, who began to make suspicious demonstrations, and for a time serious trouble seemed imminent. Through the advice of the police the owner of the dogs was requested to take away the dogs to a more remote part of the field to avoid what might have been the lynching of Jones and Stinson.

FAMILIES CHLOROFORMED.

A Series of Midnight Burglaries at Jeffersonville, Ind.

JEFFERSONVILLE, March 7.—There was a wholesale chloroforming of residents by burglars in this city Monday night. The entire family of Frank Briggs was put under the influence and the house ransacked. A large amount of money was taken by the burglars. It was several hours before the family could be revived.

The home of William Quick was then visited and the family chloroformed. Next the burglars visited Frank Bayer's home. Here they chloroformed the entire family, but secured no plunder. It is believed that the burglars are the same who assassinated Stephen Geer and lynching is among the possibilities if the burglars are caught.

EXPRESS COMPANIES ALARMED.

The Dalton Gang Heavily Armed Moving in a Mysterious Manner.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 7.—The American Express company and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas officials are much disturbed by news from the territory of the movements of the Dalton gang of outlaws. For several months these criminals have been quiet, fortified in Sapulpa mountain, 40 miles west of Vinita.

Friday night, it is learned, they broke camp and, heavily armed and otherwise thoroughly equipped, rode toward Vinita. Every indication pointed to a raid on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, and as a result the road officials and those of the American Express company have put on extra guards, each supplied with shotguns whose shells each contain 16 buckshot. Nothing has been heard from the gang since they broke camp.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., March 7.—An attempt was made yesterday to wreck and rob an express train on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, near Paulsboro, Indian Territory. Two piles of ties were placed upon the track, but a special freight ran into them and down a 40-foot embankment. The train crew jumped, escaping injury. United States marshals with a posse are in pursuit of the criminals, who are supposed to be part of the Dalton gang.

World's Fair in Gotham.

New York, March 7.—William Morris Hayes of this city comes forward with a plan for the celebration of the beginning of the twentieth century of the Christian era, to be held in the city of New York during the year 1900. His plan contemplates all the features of a world's fair, and he believes if the right support is given him New York will have an exposition in 1900 which will far surpass anything of the kind that has yet been conceived.

PREMIER ROSEBERY.

Gladstone's Successor Formally Takes Possession of His Office.

LONDON, March 7.—Lord Rosebery took formal possession yesterday afternoon of the offices recently occupied by the Right Hon. William E. Gladstone as prime minister of England. The new premier first visited the chancellor of the exchequer, the Right Hon. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, and then passed into Mr. Gladstone's rooms, where he was cordially greeted by the ex-premier as his successor.

Lord Rosebery afterward drove to his residence in Berkeley square in order to prepare for the queen's drawingroom.

The drawingroom which the new premier attended was the smallest, so far as attendance is concerned, which the queen has held in years. This is remarkable from the fact that the queen will not hold another one until 1895. There were only 142 people present and the ceremony only lasted an hour. Lord Rosebery occupied a conspicuous place near the queen, and other cabinet ministers were present.

CONVICTED OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

A Traveling Salesman Uses the Firm's Money to Buy His Children.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 7.—John P. Howard of Jennings county is in jail here under sentence to two years in the penitentiary for embezzlement, and will be taken to Jeffersonville the last of this week. Howard was a traveling agent for Cohen Brothers of Lawrenceburg, and the circumstances under which his crime was committed are sad enough to plead in extenuation of the act.

His two children died during the winter of diphtheria, and, being without means of his own, he appropriated the firm's money to pay the expenses of burial, intending, he says, to pay it back as fast as he could earn it. The finding of guilty compelled the court to sentence him to the penitentiary, but the minimum time was fixed, and the judge and prosecutor assured him they would do what they could to secure his pardon.

MURDER MYSTERY CLEARED.

A Convict Confesses to Killing a Wealthy Farmer and His Wife.

COLUMBUS, O., March 7.—A confession of murder made by the convict, Charles Morris, when he thought he was dying from self-inflicted wounds, is found upon investigation to be true. The victims of the double murder of which he confessed himself guilty were Jonathan Douthett and his wife.

Douthett was a wealthy farmer, living a mile and a half southwest of Xenia. They had no children. Morris was employed by Douthett as a farmhand. The murder occurred on May 13, 1885. The Douthetts had a large sum of money and some valuable plate. This he secured, but buried all but $50, and never dared go back after it. He was arrested, but as the evidence against him was weak, he was released after lying nine months in jail. The murder of the Douthetts has always been regarded as a mystery.

MORE FIGHTING IN BRAZIL.

Rumors That the Government Troops Have Suffered Another Defeat.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The Herald's Rio Janeiro special dispatch says: It is reported here that the church party has been supplying Admiral Da Gama and the rebel fleet with funds, in return for which Da Gama has promised that in case the rebellion is successful, state aid will be restored to the church.

Rumors have reached here that the government troops have sustained defeat on the Sao Paulo frontier, but they lack confirmation.

Admiral Mello's eldest son is dead in Argentina.

Where the Aquidaban and Republica now are is not known here, but it is considered probable that they are refitting at Isla Grande preparatory to giving battle to President Peixoto's warships.

Killed His Own Child.

CHILLICOTHE, O., March 7.—Three Locks, in this county, is worked up over a murder down that way. Mrs. John Cottrell, a blind woman, gave birth to a girl baby a week ago, which angered the father. He shook it violently soon after birth, throwing it into spasms. He also pressed its head between his hands until the little thing was swollen and bruised. The baby died soon after and Cottrell is now missing.

Suicide in the Canal.

DAYTON, O., March 7.—Mrs. John Schneider committed suicide at midnight by jumping into the canal at Miamisburg. The body was recovered yesterday morning. Mr. Schneider is a prominent and highly respected citizen of the county. Mrs. Schneider, who is aged 55, has been a sufferer for a year from nervous troubles and committed suicide while temporarily insane. They had no children.

Talked Himself to Death.

GALLIPOLIS, O., March 7.—Edward Froidevaux, the engineer who became a raving maniac on the subject of religion after having attended a big revival at Crab Creek chapel, died last night while on his knees repeating a prayer. Froidevaux has been talking day and night for the last 14 days, and the physicians are of the opinion that the maniac talked himself into eternity.

Coal Tiptoe Burned.

PITTSBURG, March 7.—A fire at Bond's coal works in the Mansfield Valley, near McDonald, Pa., on Monday night, destroyed a tippie valued at $3,000. While the men were trying to extinguish the fire several shots were fired at them from a thicket and they were driven off. The fire is believed to have been incendiary. A strike of foreign miners was inaugurated last week on account of a dispute with the pit boss, but the company refuses to attribute the fire to this.

FAST TRAIN DERAILED

Wreck on the Pennsylvania Road Near Columbus, O.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES INJURED.

A Target Tower Demolished by Being Struck by the Derailed Train—Fortunately None of the Passengers Were Seriously Injured, Though Many Received Cuts and Bruises.

COLUMBUS, O., March 7.—The Pennsylvania railroad special, No. 20, which arrived at Columbus at 8:10 p. m. and left at 8:20, met with an accident at Reed's avenue crossing, about two miles east of the city, at 8:30. This is the solid vestibuled limited, and carries passengers from Cincinnati, St. Louis and the west to New York. It is generally well crowded with passengers.

There is a target tower located at Reed avenue, which is two stories high, and from which the interlocking switch apparatus is operated. The train had just passed the tower, at a rate estimated to be about 20 miles an hour, when the last sleeper jumped the track and was thrown against the target, being practically smashed into kindling wood. The force and weight of the sleeper leaving the track pulled the other cars off, and the whole train was derailed, but none of the cars turned over.

At the time the train passed the tower the crew of a yard engine were in the tower waiting to begin work. The fireman of this crew, John McCormick, was badly hurt; fireman James Jenkins and yardmaster Bert Woodward were also badly injured. Bert Cooper, telegraph operator, badly hurt; M. L. Wilson, car inspector, badly hurt; C. C. H. Bell, brakeman, injured—all of Columbus.

A telegraph pole standing near the tower was broken off by the force of the sleeper when it jumped the track and one end of it ran through the sleeper. This aided in the destruction of the sleeper and placed the passengers in a most perilous position. The car was well filled and only a few had retired for the night. The greatest of excitement prevailed as the passengers were imprisoned in the car and the work of rescue was inaugurated. Assistance was promptly called from the Panhandle yards nearby and the police patrols and ambulances responded, and all aided in the rescue. None of the passengers were seriously injured, although many of them have suffered cuts and bruises and severe shocks.

NO CARS RUNNING.

Union Men Demolish Two Cars Run by Nonunion Men.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 7.—The Youngstown Electric Street Railway company, which has been tied up by a strike since Sunday morning, ran out the first car yesterday noon manned by a nonunion crew. The streets were crowded by thousands of idle mill men, who greeted the appearance of the car with loud cries of "black sheep" and hurled epithets at the men on the car. No passengers were on board. When the car reached the public square a wild rush was made for it by the crowd, and in an instant every windowpane was smashed to atoms.

A second car was run out of the barns shortly after noon and received similar treatment as the first. The windows were demolished by stones thrown by the strikers or their sympathizers. A nonunion man had his face cut by flying glass. Beyond this no one was hurt. No arrests have yet been made.

At 2 o'clock the company decided to abandon the attempt to run cars for the present. The two cars that had been started out were returned to the barn. Everything is now quiet and no further trouble is apprehended.

School Money Must Be Returned.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 7.—The law requiring township trustees to return certain state school money remaining unexpended at the close of a school year, for redistribution, was declared constitutional by the supreme court yesterday. The contention has been that some trustees who were not expending all of their money, were retaining the remainder to their own or to the township's advantage, instead of returning it to county treasurers, as required by law. The Marion circuit court held the law unconstitutional. That decision was reversed by Judge McCabe. One million five hundred thousand dollars is involved in the suit.

Famous Tax Case Decision.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 7.—The supreme court yesterday rendered a decision in the famous tax case from Carroll county, in which it was sought to tax the estate of Nathaniel Bowen, who had sequestered his property, which, upon his death, proved to aggregate about $1,000,000 in value. The estate was thus taxed for the years from 1881 to 1889, inclusive, in amounts ranging from $104,000 to $252,000, the auditor claiming that this amount of property had been sequestered. The decision permits the state to hold the property for unpaid taxes.

Nothing New From Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The brig Albert has arrived from Honolulu. She left there Feb. 20, five days later than the date of the last previous advices. Nothing of importance has transpired on the islands.

Tannery Burned.

WOBURN, Mass., March 7.—G. & E. G. Place's tannery, the largest in this section, burned. Loss, $50,000.

Played With a Gun—Angel Now.

BROWNSTOWN, Ind., March 7.—Ross Gossman, 10, while playing with a loaded shotgun blew his head off.

AMUSING THEMSELVES.

How Our Lawmakers Are Putting in Their Time at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A somewhat amusing episode enlivened the senate proceedings yesterday, inaugurated by Senator Berry's personal explanation. A New York newspaper had included him in a group of portraits of nine Democratic senators whom it charged with being "obstructionists" to the tariff bill. Mr. Berry denied that he had ever been anything but an earnest advocate of the bill, and on all occasions had urged its speedy report to the senate without modification. His explanation was followed by explanations from Senators Faulkner, Call, McLaurin and Morgan, which led to much amusement in the senate chamber.

The main interest of the day centered about the discussion as to the disposal of the Bland bill. Mr. Stewart gave notice that today at 2 o'clock he would move to take it up and make it the business before the senate until disposed of. Mr. Teller also spoke on the same subject. After a brief executive session the senate adjourned at 3:20 o'clock.

Pension Debate in the House.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The debate on the pension appropriation bill was continued yesterday in the house, the feature of the day being General Sickles' speech criticizing the action of Commissioner Lochren. An agreement was reached whereby the debate on the bill will close at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Before the debate began yesterday the resolution for the investigation of Judge Jenkins' writ of injunction against the Northern Pacific railroad was taken up and passed.

QUIETED WITH A GATLING GUN.

No Further Rioting Among the Kanawha Miners.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 7.—There is no apprehension of any further trouble among the Kanawha miners. While there has been nothing developed that in any way changes the aspect of affairs, the officers are continually making arrests and the troubles are all well in hand. Four more arrests have been made, making a total of 27 strikers apprehended so far.

The preliminary examination of the Wyants and strikers now in progress at Fayetteville will probably consume several days. The Wyants are out on bail. The Gatling gun which was taken to Eagle has been placed in position there, and it is thought will soon have a good effect in quieting the strikers. It is in plain view of the railroad and the great crowds of striking miners that pass on every freight train look at it as long as it is in view.

The Montgomery authorities, who have been friendly to the miners, resisting the attempts of the sheriff and the posse to arrest strikers within the corporation limits, have been completely awed by the state authorities, and a telegram to The Daily Gazette states that they are doing all in their power to aid in making arrests. It is probable that the discovery of the dynamite plot has had a great deal to do with the change of front on the part of the Montgomery officials.

Traders Store Raided.

WICHITA, Kan., March 7.—A special dispatch to The Eagle from Watonga, says that four masked men and a woman, disguised, and another man who is supposed to be the notorious Tom King, raided the traders' store at Cantonment, made the proprietor and five clerks line up at the point of revolvers. They robbed every one of them and then took the money in the safe which is supposed to be quite a large sum, as there is no bank within 50 miles of the place. At the suggestion of the female desperado, the clerks were afterward refunded their watches and jewelry.

Confessed to the Robbery.

DEXTER, Mich., March 7.—O. C. Gregory, assistant cashier of the Dexter Savings bank, has confessed to Detective Baker of Detroit that he himself stole the $1,200 from the vault of the bank last Thursday, and that his story of being attacked and slugged by masked robbers was purely fiction. What led to the confession was the finding of over $300 concealed in a room back of the bank. The detective had been strongly watching and questioning young Gregory, finally with the above result. He was arrested.

Jesse Pomeroy Attempts to Escape.

BOSTON, March 7.—Jesse Pomeroy, the famous boy murderer who is serving a life sentence in the Charlestown state prison, has been caught in another attempt to escape. The spring cleaning at the state prison is now going on and on examining Pomeroy's cell it was discovered that the convict had been removing mortar and stones in the back of his cell. He had proceeded with the work so far that he would have gained his liberty in a short time. He was removed to another cell and is now under strict watch.

Did Not Starve to Death.

PAID, March 7.—An Associated Press correspondent made inquiries at the Continental hotel as to the circumstances under which Miss Ida Van Etten, the American writer, died. The report that she died of starvation was declared to be untrue. Her death occurred on Sunday night and the cause was heart disease. A sum of money was found in her possession. Several friends had previously undertaken to provide for her wants.

Ex-President Harrison's First.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Ex-President Harrison yesterday delivered the first of his course of lectures on law subjects before the students of Stanford university. The lecture was upon the development of the constitution of the United States and was for the students of the university exclusively. The lecture will be repeated for the benefit of the public.

MURDER AT THE POLLS

An Election Tragedy at Troy, New York.

FIGHTING FOLLOWED BY FIRING

One Man Killed, While His Brother Is Mortally Wounded—Three Others Receive Gunshot Wounds More or Less Serious—The Whole Affair Seems Shrouded in Mystery.

TROY, N. Y., March 7.—A mayor was elected in this city yesterday, but the record of the election is spotted with blood, and scenes such as the oldest resident in Troy has no recollection of were enacted.

In a darkened room in the family residence lies the body of Robert Ross, who left his home in the morning to aid in the election of the candidate that the Republican party had endorsed. In a room in the same house lies his brother William, perhaps mortally wounded. In another part of the city lies wounded a notorious rough and wardheeler, "Bat" Shea, and still in another part of the city is John McGough, who received a bullet and is seriously injured.

Among the watchers at the Twelfth ward, first precinct polling place, was Robert Ross and his brother William, both of them being there in the interest of the Republican party. There was also there a well known character by the name of "Bat" Shea. About 1:30 o'clock a gang of strangers stood waiting to vote, while men whose names were on the poll list, both Democrats and Republicans, were crowded away. Robert Ross objected to this, and had some words with "Bat" Shea.

The story told by the surviving Rosses is that "Bat" Shea is the man who killed Robert Ross. They say that the trouble began in the polling booth, where a crowd of repeaters headed by Jeremiah Cleary and Shea attempted to vote. When the vote was challenged the men went outside and immediately started an argument with the Rosses. Suddenly the crowd surged forward and in an instant revolvers were drawn and shots fired. Robert Ross fell to the roadway and his brother William cried, "I'm shot." Then the firing ceased as suddenly as it had commenced.

Before a surgeon could reach the scene Robert Ross was dead. William Ross was shot in the neck just below the base of the brain, and will probably die. John McGough is dangerously wounded, while Shea's wound is not considered serious.

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was premeditated. Only about an hour and a half before this man Shea struck my brother William full in the face. I dragged William away, and told him to take the blow and say nothing; the blow would not hurt him. I did not think at the time that they would use their guns."

Mayor Whelan said: "It is only the natural result of the determination of the Murphy heeler to carry the election by fair means or foul. It is a stain on this city."

At midnight it was ascertained that another man was mortally wounded at the Troy election in the Thirteenth ward tragedy. John McGough, one of the alleged gang of repeaters who participated in the bloody riot, was found at his home suffering from the effects of a bullet wound in his abdomen. The bullet had penetrated the kidneys, and the physicians say he can not recover. He is insensible now, but before he became unconscious he said that he did not have a revolver and did not do any of the shooting. He says that he felt the bullet, and started to go home. He fell by the roadside and was carried home by friends.

ELECTIONS IN NEW YORK.

Returns Show That the Republicans Have Made Decided Gains.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The election returns from the various counties of the state show decided Republican gains. They have made gains in some districts that the Democrats held to be essentially their own.

In Geneva the Republicans made a clean sweep. Every one of their candidates was elected by an overwhelming majority.

In Rochester the Republicans are jubilant over the outcome of the election, their candidate for mayor having been elected by a majority of probably 3,000.

In Little Falls not a single Democrat was elected.

Every town in Wayne county shows Republican gains.

In Gloversville the board of aldermen is entirely Republican.

The returns from Rockland, Washington, Essex, Clinton and Greene counties all show that the Republicans have either held their own or made gains.

Lansingburg elected the entire Republican ticket by over 1,200 majority. Last year the Democratic majority was 565.

Saratoga county went Republican by increased majorities.

In Ithaca the Republicans gained a decided victory.

Died in His Private Car.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Rufus Frost died suddenly in his private car at the Union railway station yesterday afternoon. He was returning from Mexico to his home in Boston. Mr. Frost has been sick for some time and was traveling in charge of a physician.

Dougan Now Wants a Pardon.

Fair weather during the greater portion of the day; slightly colder in eastern portion; variable winds.

Come, Br'er Davis, let's have that explanation for the thousands of strikes against reductions of wages from 1881 to 1885 under your Republican high tariffs.

The few reductions of wages now are insignificant compared with the thousands that occurred a few years ago under the boasted Republican high tariffs.

In 1883 there were over 9,000 business failures in this country, and in 1884 over 10,000 failures, and thousands of reductions of wages, all under a high tariff. If a high tariff insures high wages and business prosperity, as the Ledger argues, Br'er Davis should tell what caused all the failures and reductions just mentioned.

From 1881 to 1886, under Republican high tariff, there were nearly 5,000 strikes against reductions of wages. Is the Ledger rehashing these old reductions? If you will observe, there are no dates to the "calamity" items Br'er Davis has lately published.—BULLETIN.

Nay, Brother; there's no need of "going behind the returns." The "calamity items" published in the Ledger are fresh from the grist of Grover.—Public Ledger.

Give us the dates, Br'er Davis. They are very important. Why do you leave them out?

SPEAKING of the fight made by the protected interests to retain their tariff subsidies, the New York World says:

The boycott of the Wilson bill by wholly unnecessary reductions of wages goes on at an increasing rate in many New England cities, as the World's dispatches show. In many cotton mills there have been reductions and in some a complete shut-down upon the plea of unfriendly tariff legislation, although the Wilson bill affords this class of manufacturers all the protection that a tariff can give. In many woolen mills the same thing is done although by providing free raw materials the bill really adds to the advantages enjoyed by the mill-owners.

"It is difficult," remarks the New York Times, "to find in the fact that Mr. Grow's vote in Pennsylvania was less by 26,000 than that cast for the Republican candidate for Congressman-at-large in 1892 any evidence that many thousands of 'disgusted' Democrats voted for him. The enormous falling off of 150,000 in the vote for the Democratic candidate may indicate some disgust, but it indicates more indifference, due mainly to the fact that nobody supposed that there was the slightest chance of electing the candidate in a State that is always so one-sided in its vote for Congressmen."

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by J. James Wood.

The Postmaster General has sent out a special request that people mailing letters or valuable packages put their name and address on the same so that it may be returned if not called for.—Exchange.

INDUSTRIAL NEWS.

Orders Ahead For Fourteen Months, at Midvale Steel Works—Miners Resuming.

Reading (Pa.) Herald: "There is one large concern in Pennsylvania which is an exception to the general rule this year. We refer to the Midvale Steel Company, of Philadelphia, whose President, at its annual meeting, declared that the past year has been the most prosperous in its history, and that it had orders on hand to keep its plant running steadily for the next fourteen months. It is noticeable, by the way, that this is the only company which has refused to join the proposed steel trust which is now being formed to control the market in this country. Its President, moreover, is the much maligned individual who called down maledictions upon his head during the last Presidential campaign by declaring that the steel business needed no protection. At that time it was said that he knew nothing about the steel business, and was one of those despised theorists who studied political economy in books. It would appear from the results, however, that somebody about the establishment has some knowledge of the practical side of the business."

BRIDGEPORT, O., March 5.—Four thousand miners in Sub-district No. 6 resumed work to-day, leaving the settlement of wages of outside laborers to arbitration.

The Portsmouth Blade says the Kentucky Fire Brick Company will increase its capacity 50 per cent. in the next thirty days.

PORTLAND, IND., March 5.—A private letter from Red Key says that a large mineral wool factory was located there Saturday. The buildings are all to be of brick, 250 by 150 feet, and ground was broken for the foundation to-day. The new factory will give employment to over one hundred men.

WEST SUPERIOR, WIS., March 5.—Work will be resumed to-morrow at the barge works with a force of about 200 men.

At the Churches.

At the afternoon meeting yesterday at the M. E. Church, South, the congregation was somewhat reduced by the rain but the service was unusually enjoyable to those present.

There was a workers' conference held at 6 o'clock for the purpose of formulating some plans of systematic effort in carrying forward the work of the meeting.

There was one accession at the evening service. Services to-day at the usual hours.

There were two conversions, one addition and several added for prayer last night at the Methodist Episcopal Church, and the interest was good. A fair audience was present, notwithstanding the inclement weather. Jesus is working upon the hearts of the people, and we are trusting for a wonderful out-pouring of his spirit. Come praying for salvation, and trusting God for a victory, it shall be given in Jesus' name. Services begin promptly at 7 p. m. You are invited.

D. P. HOLT, pastor.

Methodists Getting Together.

At St. Louis, the two great bodies of Methodism met in a joint love feast and communion service, at Union M. E. Church, Garrison and Lucas avenues, Monday. Forty or fifty ministers were present, and all united in attesting their joys at the burial of strife and dissension. The meeting was unique and heretofore unheard of in St. Louis, where feelings over the civil war ran very high. For years the two divisions of Methodism stood apart, as if forever estranged. The services were of each character as suited the occasion, and included the administration of the Lord's Supper to all present, addresses by the various ministers and other exercises indicative of unity.

River News.

The river is about on a stand here.

Fourteen towboats are coming from Pittsburg with coal.

The H. F. Frisbie made the best time from Pittsburg to Cincinnati that has been recorded in many years. She left the trap, eighteen miles below Pittsburg, at 12 m. on Saturday and arrived at Coal Haven at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Enquirer: "Henry McClanahan is superintending the placing of the machinery of the new City of Louisville, which is equivalent to saying that the finishing will be done in first class style. He is now ready to raise steam in the battery of eight steel boilers."

Captain Watt Sedd was banqueted Monday night at the Grand Hotel, Cincinnati, by the White Collar Line officials. Capt. Sedd began life on the river twenty-three years ago as mud clerk on the old Fleetwood, under Captain Campbell. Since then he has seen service as Chief Clerk and Captain on, among others, the old Bostona, Potomac, Telegraph, St. James, the St. Lawrence, and was Captain of the Morning Mail in the Maysville trade till she burned a few years ago. He was for seven years Master of the boat in the Maysville trade. About five years ago he was made General Freight Agent, with headquarters on the Big Sandy Wharfboat. He resigned recently to engage in the hotel business at Ashland.

Charged With Embezzlement.

Fred Carl is behind prison bars at Lexington, charged with embezzlement. Carl claims to represent the Queen City Crayon Company, and has been taking orders through the Blue Grass State, on each of which he required a cash payment of $2 to insure good faith in the customer.

The warrant was issued at Cynthiana, and Carl was arrested while calling for his mail at the Lexington postoffice. With him is a pretty little woman, who says she is his wife, and that their home is in Zanesville, O. He was taken to Cynthiana for trial.

CHEAP DIAMONDS.

Universal Hard Times Said to Be Unsettling the Market For the Sparklers.

It will not be surprising if the universal hard times cause a great crash in the diamond market. It is well known that the great syndicate which has controlled the price of precious stones in the past few years finds the enormously increased production, combined with the steadily shrinking market, a very difficult condition to deal with.

Cecil Rhodes, the virtual king of South Africa, told the stockholders of the consolidated De Beers mines at Cape Town, on Thursday, that the cause of the present depression in the diamond trade was to be found in America, which took one-third of the world's production. These mines have long been the greatest producers, but one of the two other South African companies has recently much increased its output in spite of the control exercised by the syndicate. It is now possible to obtain small diamonds in London at astonishingly low figures. No cutting of prices has yet been made by reputable jewelers in the retail trade, but the supply of small stones is so enormous that those who know the ropes can buy them at 20 to 50 per cent of the prices of 1892.—London Cable.

THE LAW MAKERS.

What They Are Doing at Frankfort. After Dilatory Officials—Other Matters of Interest.

In the House Monday Mr. Birkhead presented a resolution, which passed, calling for an investigation, by the State Examiners, of the Jailers, Clerks, Sheriffs and Master Commissioners for the failure to conform to the law requiring the report of fees in certain cases to be made to the Auditor.

On motion of Mr. Searcy, a conference committee was appointed on the bill abolishing the State Board of Equalization.

The debate on the Senate bill establishing three industrial schools was then resumed. Several amendments were offered, one of which makes a trial by jury necessary to the incarceration of a child.

In the Senate the bill relating to second-class printing, known as the "blank book bill," came up for consideration. The fight over this bill has been between the Courier-Journal Job Printing Company and the Bradley-Gildert Company, who are the bidders. If the bill had passed the printing. An amendment was adopted, however, providing that the best and lowest bidder should have it. The friends of the bill in its original shape then moved to lay the whole thing on the table, which was done.

The House bill regulating the assessment of property of non-residents, in cases where they own timber and mineral rights or lands that are otherwise assessed to party residents, was passed.

The Weissinger bill to amend the civil code concerning injunctions, allowing injunctions to be dissolved in certain cases of appeal, passed unanimously.

A resolution was introduced tendering the use of the hall of the House of Representatives to the Kentucky State Press Association at their annual meeting.

The conference committee appointed to settle the differences of the two houses on the bill abolishing the State Board of Equalization have agreed to report in favor of accepting the Senate substitutes. This, instead of abolishing the Board outright, allows it to meet once every five years and confines its powers of assessment and legislation to real estate. The bill, in this shape, will pass.

The objection to the Reform School bill in its present form are based on the opinion that it requires too flimsy a pretext for the incarceration of an alleged wayward youth. It affords a too tempting opportunity for a dissolute parent or guardian to thrust the support of a child on the State and visits the sins of parents or guardians on innocent children.

THERE has never been another fire scene placed on the stage superior to that in "The Phoenix." Special attention has been given to this feature. The fire scene is now worked by electricity and is said to be wonderfully effective, absolutely safe. In rewriting the play way has been made for the introduction into the cellar scene of numerous specialties, nearly every member of Milton Nobles company being a specialty performer as well as an actor. This brings the play up to date and strangely enough goes back to first principles, as it was first staged with specialties. At the opera house next Saturday night.

TOILETS FOR MOURNING.

Unexpected Signs of Grief That Warm Weather May Develop.

The Eton jacket is too convenient to become quickly obsolete and is used in many of the spring costumes for misses and young women. A French model of a mourning gown is shown having an Eton jacket, although it seems rather too flippant a style for the appropriate expression of grief. The round bell skirt is trimmed with black bands of crape, and the jacket, which opens over a full crape vest, is bordered with the same trimming. Tight crape cuffs extend to the elbow, while crape epaulettes fall over the puff that forms the upper part of the sleeve. Crape is still the orthodox material for mourning, although it is so unserviceable a stuff. Woolen crape and crepons, henrietta, serge, camel's hair and all dull flushed black cloths are employed, while some beautiful black silk crepons are shown among the new spring gowns, having a narrow plain silk stripe, or a silk stripe with a sort of ruffled effect, or the goods, instead of being striped, are sprinkled with plain silk flecks. For warm weather grenadine, nun's veiling and plain black silk not may also be used. Ample veils of the latter are far better for summer wear than the suffocating crape ones and are quite as complete mourning.

The custom of wearing black hose or tulle ruchings next the neck and wrists is one to be followed with caution, as the dye is usually not fast in those materials and is apt to come off upon the skin under the influence of warmth or dampness. A fold of dull china silk or a plaiting of silk net is a safer finish to adopt.

A spring mourning toilet is shown made of dull flushed and woolen material. It has a round bell skirt trimmed with three black bands of crape of different widths. The plain corsage has a short basque and opens in front over a full vest of black gauze confined by a crape girdle. The full cloth sleeves are trimmed with crape. A triple cape accompanies the gown, the two lower capes of cloth and the upper one of crape. They are mounted on a yoke which is concealed by a cloth collar continued down the front edges of the cape in the form of crape revers. The bonnet, with its trimming and strings, is of crape and has a ruching of white crape beneath the close brim.

A Doll Bonbon Box That Only Costs $3 or $4.

The source of decorative novelties seems to be unfailing. Every month brings out on the fancy counters of the shops a fresh assortment of small articles more or less useful and ornamental. One of the latest things is a flat pocket pinholder, made of brown silk, in imitation of the flat side of a chestnut and rather larger than the Spanish chestnuts seen in the markets. The pins are stuck in around the edge. The tiny decorated rolling pins, etc., once popular for key racks, have been superseded by wood or composition oak and maple leaves, painted and veined in the natural colors. Several small gilt hooks are fastened on the face of the leaf to hold the keys, and the leaf is hung up by the stem. Something decidedly new are the white applique letters now for sale at the notion counters. They are about three-quarters of an inch long and are embroidered, but have no background, and are intended to save the labor of embroidering initials on household linen and underwear. The idea is a novel but practical one.

Voluntinous lampshades are still popular, but ingenuitly has been almost exhausted on them, and every combination of china silk, lace and crape has been tried over and over. Some new ones are shown made of crape paper in shades of lavender, ornamented with a large cluster of purple and white flag lilies or lilies, also made of paper. The same scheme might be more cheerfully carried out in pale yellow, since there are yellow lilies in nature. These millinery lamp shades are not satisfactory on the whole, however, as they are too flimsy to be trusted in the neighborhood of fire.

A doll bonbon box is a rather attractive novelty which, trivial as it may seem, sells at between $3 and $4. The foundation is a rather tall, round box, to the lid of which is fastened the upper half of a doll's body, with head and arms complete. The skirt is secured to the waist of the doll and is made just the right length and circumference to cover the box when the lid is on. These dolls are dressed in various styles—one in gray, as a Quaker, with a silk bonnet and a kerchief; another in lace and muslin, with a hat and a clay basket of flowers. The prettiest are the "folly" costumes of satin and ribbons, hung with little bells. The dress is in two colors, of course, black and orange blue and white, and turquoise and gold being the most effective combinations.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN ROBBERY.

The Bandits Are Frightened Away Before Securing Anything.

St. Louis, March 7.—Late last night word was received in this city that three men made an attempt to hold up the New Orleans passenger train which left here at 9 o'clock on the Mobile and Ohio railroad, near Forest Lawn, Ill., about four miles from East St. Louis. The robbers were frightened away, however, before they accomplished their purpose. Soon after the train had passed Pittsburg Crossing and just before reaching Forest Lawn, while passing through a swamp, the fireman saw three men crawling over the tender from the baggage car. He drew his revolver and held them at bay, while the engineer slowed up and drew his own gun.

Conductor Eshols came forward to see why the train had stopped, and with his help the three would-be robbers were put to flight without a shot being fired. The men ran away without attempting to draw their weapons, and were soon lost sight of in the darkness.

The train continued on its way to Columbia, the nearest telegraph station, where information was sent back to East St. Louis of the attempted robbery. It is thought that the robbers got on the train in front of the blind baggage car when it stopped at Pittsburg Crossing. As soon as word was received at East St. Louis, four police officers were immediately sent out on an engine to the scene of the attempted robbery to trace the men if possible.

This is the fourth time since last May that this train has been held up by robbers and almost at the same locality.

Only a meager description of the three bandits could be obtained. One was medium sized and in stature was about 5 feet 8 inches high and weighed about 140 pounds. He wore a dark suit and in his dress and appearance seemed a laboring man. The second robber was tall and slender, but would weigh 180 pounds. He wore dark clothes and appeared to be a laborer. The third robber was of medium size, but no further description can be obtained. All three had their faces concealed by heavy black masks.

Chelmsford Tobacco Market.

Last week's offerings were comparatively light, and the receipts, while of good size, were some less than previous weeks. The monthly report shows a very small reduction in stock, 10 hides. There was little or no change, business transacted not being entirely satisfactory warehousemen or shipper, as the market showed no improvement either in prices or demand. The amount of old appearing on sale is small, as the demand continues inactive and prevailing prices do not justify larger offerings, as holders are waiting, hoping that the very poor quality of the 1893 crop will soon cause a better demand from manufacturers at advanced prices.

The commoner and low grades of new, consisting the large supply, 831 hides out of 1,220 selling below 5c, and the poor quality, are selling reasonably well and much better in proportion than the better grades; anything, though, of good quality color and body finds a good demand and sells well. The number of this kind is comparatively very small. Rejections were about 30 per cent., against 40 per cent. last week.
